BLOOD

My physician has informed me that I have _____.
(diagnosis or condition) IF INDICATION CHANGES, NEW CONSENT MUST BE OBTAINED

The benefit of transfusion of blood or blood components as part of the treatment for this condition has been explained to me. I understand that blood components are obtained from volunteer community blood donors. If my medical condition permits, I may have a choice to select some or all of my blood donors (directed donor blood), or provide some or all of my own blood for infusion (autologous blood). Blood or blood components are administered into a vein througha needle or a catheter which is placed using sterile technique. Depending on my condition, I may receive transfusion of whole blood, red blood cells, platelets, plasma, cryoprecipitate, or white blood cells.

RISKS: I understand that the blood or blood components administered to me have been tested by an outside laboratory for some infectious diseases such as hepatitis; HIV, the virus that causes AIDS; syphilis; and other infections as appropriate. However, I understand such testing is not 100% effective, and there is a small risk of acquiring an infection such as AIDS or hepatitis from blood. I understand that other reactions may occur as a result of the transfusion, including allergic reactions, fever, headache, hemolysis (destruction of red blood cells), kidney failure, shortness of breath, lung injury or fluid overload. Minor and temporary reactions are also possible, including a bruise, swelling or local infection in the area where the needle pierces the skin.

Additional risks specific to me include (fill in or write none):_____

ALTERNATIVES: I understand that the volunteer blood donor supply is available to me; however, other choices possibly available to me include (circle if applicable, and fill in the blank):

AUTOLOGOUS BLOOD (my own blood) DIRECTED DONOR BLOOD (blood from a donor of my choice)

OTHER: (fill in or write none) _____

REFUSAL: I understand that I may refuse to accept the transfusion of blood or blood components, and I understand that my refusal may cause serious harm or death.

I HAVE READ, OR HAVE HAD READ TO ME, THE ABOVE INFORMATION. I HAVE HAD ALL MY QUESTIONS ANSWERED TO MY SATISFACTION. I BELIEVE THAT I HAVE ALL THE INFORMATION I NEED TO MAKE A DECISION. THE RISKS, BENEFITS, POSSIBLE SIDE EFFECTS AND ALTERNATIVES TO TRANSFUSION HAVE BEEN DISCUSSED WITH ME.
